

Assistant Professor in the Business Program

Defiance College invites applications and nominations for an Assistant Professor in our Business Programs. We are at an exciting crossroads and searching for a dynamic and innovative individual to provide leadership for our undergraduate and graduate programs. Responsibilities of this full-time, tenure-track position include a 24-credit per year teaching load in undergraduate and graduate courses; academic advising; committee work; and service to the college.

The successful candidate must have a completed doctorate in business (PhD or DBA) or related field. Preference will be given to candidates with knowledge of assessment of learning and use of technology in pedagogy, including online learning experience. While area of specialty is open, preference will be for candidates in the areas in finance, banking, agri-business, and/or entrepreneurship.

Defiance College, chartered in 1850, is an independent, coeducational, liberal arts institution affiliated with the United Church of Christ. The campus is located on 150 acres in a residential area in the city of Defiance in Northwest Ohio. Defiance is a college where students learn to lead and serve in a democracy; learn to understand, appreciate, and have the skills to interact with other cultures; and learn to not only receive knowledge but to make their own knowledge by engaging in interactive experiences. Our vision creates an educational experience of engagement in civic, cultural, and learning dimensions for all students and is home to the McMaster School for Advancing Humanity, a unique program with broad opportunities for international academic research, student leadership, and action to improve the human condition.

To apply, send a letter of application that addresses the requirements and preferences of the position, statement of teaching philosophy, cv, sampling of syllabi and student evaluations (if available), salary expectations, and four professional references to:
