

Assistant/Associate Professor of Accounting

The School of Business at Concordia University Irvine, seeks applicants for a full-time (10 month) faculty position starting August 1, 2018. The School strives to develop wise, honorable, and cultivated citizens by preparing graduates for a successful transition into employment, graduate school and/or licensure. Responsibilities will include teaching introductory and upper-division courses, curriculum development and assessment, research, service to the department and university, and other academic or administrative responsibilities as assigned. Some MBA course assignments may become available.

Successful candidates must 1) understand, value, and affirm a Christian liberal arts approach to higher education, 2) be willing to invest themselves in the lives of students, and 3) teach in more than one area of business specialization in a variety of modalities (classroom, online and hybrid). Ideal candidates must be academically qualified including a terminal degree in accounting and recent, relevant experience in the business world. ABD will be considered for an Associate level position and an MBA for an Assistant level position. CPA preferred.

Concordia University Irvine, California, is a Lutheran, co-ed, residential liberal arts university offering both undergraduate and graduate degrees. Concordia University Irvine does not discriminate in the employment of individuals on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, disability, sex or age. However, it is a Christian educational institution operated by The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS) and, in compliance with Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, employs only those individuals who meet the religious membership requirements established by the University.

The School of Business is home to the largest undergraduate program at Concordia University Irvine. Accredited by the International Accreditation Council for Business Education (IACBE), the undergraduate economics and business administration program offers emphases in accounting, business data analytics, finance, international business, management, marketing, and sport management. The MBA program focuses on business practice with flexibility for working professionals. Faculty include entrepreneurs and executives.

Additionally, the School of Business is home to the Center for Faith and Business, the annual Faith & Business Forum, the Business Insight Series, the Center for Public Policy, the Teen Entrepreneurship Academy, the Kid Entrepreneur Academy and the Institute for Strategic Marketing.

Screening of applicants will begin immediately, and will continue until the position is filled. To apply send an email with the following documents attached: cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of philosophy of teaching, contact information from three professional references, a copy of transcript showing highest earned degree posted along with the university's official application which can be downloaded at <https://www.cui.edu/hr/index/id/3688> to provost@cui.edu.