He is highly enthusiastic about supporting the higher education system worldwide and willing to improve the delivery methods of higher education during the development of the digital world.

Reason Seeking Position:

Serving the VP role is often the second-in-command in any organization, and as such, responsibility for supporting the leadership of the organization in my capacity and ensuring that it is running smoothly. As VP, it will allow me to serve the current regional president and be on the call for any organizational needs, from planning and organizing the annual Regional Assembly Conferences (RAC) to keeping the region in compliance with IACBE headquarter. I have served in the capacity of university presidency since 2015 with a focus on non-profit structures, and I can bring the same experience to IACBE and ensure the organization's body is achieving its goals. My contribution to the IACBE mission will be borderless, with the possibility of using my resources and my institution's resources to support IACBE regional needs, including but not limited to marketing, connections, sponsorship, and even funding resources that will support the mission of IACBE. IACBE is one of the leading accreditation agencies in the United States and worldwide. This is an opportunity for me to serve the educational community and execute the knowledge I bring to serve the quality of education.
