Conference Host: Franklin University

In-Person conference with Virtual Option on Zoom

The conference committee requests presentation submissions relating to this year's conference theme:

Designing for Critical Thinking

Presentation sessions will be 30 minutes in length.

Suggested topics include, but are not limited to:

- Topics related to the conference theme
- Seamless transitions among in-person, remote, and hybrid learning
- Technology needs and networking to support students such as network virtualization, flexible and adaptive technology, and advanced security
- Marketing expansion beyond the community to a national and global campaign to reach more prospective students
- Diversity of teaching faculty within programs
- The changing definition of traditional students

We welcome participation from:

- Faculty of IACBE Member Institutions
- Chairs and Deans of IACBE Member Institutions
- Persons affiliated with Institutions interested in IACBE

Suggested presentation types:

- One-person or two-person presentation
- Presentation with roundtables
- Panel presentation (limit to three-panel members and a moderator)

Proposal submissions are due August 31, 2023

Presenters will be notified after the conference planners review submissions

Conference presentation submissions must include the following elements:

- Names of presenter(s) with concise CV
- Title of the presentation
- A short description/abstract of the presentation (75-150 words)
- Any special audio-visual needs or support that will be required
Note: If presenting in-person, all resources needed for presentations (PowerPoint, video files, etc.) should be brought on a flash drive due to any unforeseen issues with cloud/online accessibility issues
- Time slot preferences are not guaranteed, but you can request Thursday morning, afternoon, or Friday morning.
- Whether you are planning to be at the conference in person or presenting virtually

All proposals must be submitted electronically as email attachments by August 31st in MS Word format to IACBE Regional Secretary Staci Lugar Brettin at srlugarbrettin@indianatech.edu
