Reason Seeking Position

As an institutional builder, I have established Educational Institutes at higher, secondary and primary levels. Being the founder and founder Principal of AIMS INSTITUTES, Bangalore, which is the first Institute I am deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and believe that my background uniquely positions me for the role of Vice President, IACBE Region 10. As the founder and Principal of AIMS Institutes in Bangalore, I have successfully built and accredited educational institutions at multiple levels. AIMS Institutes stands out as the first in India to receive IACBE accreditation for its undergraduate programs, and AIMS B-School's accredited Graduate, Master's, and Doctoral programs further exemplify my dedication to high educational standards. My extensive experience as a certified Assessor with the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) and as a Syndicate Member of Bangalore University has provided me with comprehensive insights into quality initiatives and the importance of accreditation in higher education. Having assessed numerous institutions across India, I have developed a nuanced understanding of benchmarking and quality assessment. In the capacity of Vice President, IACBE Region 10, I am well-prepared to advocate for the implementation of quality initiatives and emphasize the crucial role of accrediting bodies like IACBE. My goal is to leverage my expertise to further enhance educational standards and drive meaningful improvements within the region. In India to have been accredited at undergraduate program by IACBE, AIMS B-SCHOOL which runs Graduate, Master's and Doctoral Programs in business are also accredited by IACBE. The passion for education and being associated with National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) as certified Assessor and Bangalore University, India as Syndicate Member, visited various institutions across the nation for accreditation of higher educational institutes (HEIs) and for extension of approvals respectively, I have acquired an expertise and knowledge on the quality initiatives and the importance in benchmarking and assessment by the accrediting bodies in the field of HEIs. This position of Vice President, IACBE Region 10, will extend an opportunity to advocate the importance of implementing the quality initiatives and the role played by accrediting bodies like IACBE.
